Enjoy this site? Gift the author a WordPress.com plan. Gift

Sixteen Characters Of People In The World

July 13, 2020

There is a logical regularity that was discovered before by our predecessors. It lies in the fact that there is only sixteen characters of people or 16 types of personalities. We are sure, that these numbers are correct.

Sixteen Characters Of People Were Found In Typology

In our case, we have a different description of sixteen characters of people based on our theoretical scheme created by logical synthesis. All these sixteen characters of people are the innate personality types. We divide these types naturally into two groups. They are concrete and abstract groups. We call all these types “ITT” (innate type of thinking).

As for the ITT it can be typical and atypical, as we mentioned before. Atypical ITT behaviour is described here. But before reading it, please read the description below, concerning your ITT. If you want to identify your ITT accurately, you may order our test here.

In the description of each ITT you will notice the the words like “melancholic”, “phlegmatic”, “sanguine”, “choleric”. This words show what of kind of qualities are more visible in such temperaments and it influence the inner difference of behaviour between sixteen characters of people.

Here Is The Description Of Such Characters:

DLST (Democratic Logical Seeing Type)

Attentive person. Does not offend weak people and those who need protection. Always ready to be helpful and one of the most reliable person among sixteen characters of people. Respects controversial and religious views and tries to strive for equality (sanguine). Always attentive to suspicious things. Such person has a good memory for details and meaning of conversation, that is actual (melancholic, choleric). Passive patriot. Painfully reacts to those people, who betray the homeland and their nation.

Such person doesn’t like to change something in his or her life (melancholic, choleric). Tries to make any compromise in order to find his place and position with co-workers. Usually, such person does not pay much attention to other people’s defects (sanguine, phlegmatic). His or her words sometimes may hurt other people. This is because such ITT doesn’t know how to pick up the right words (melancholic, choleric) or express his or her feelings and thoughts (melancholic, phlegmatic). That is why DLST has an image of restrained person.

This person likes to watch others. They don’t like when somebody helps them, until they ask for help. But usually DLST respects the freedom of choice. He will not push on people if they made their choice. That is why such person likes to be independent (sanguine, phlegmatic). But at the same time, he is afraid to lose his job, friends and tries to be attentive and flexible. Sometimes. such person closes the eyes to other people’s whims (sanguine).

ACTT (Aristocratic Casuistic Thinking Type)

The second type out of sixteen characters of people. He likes to show others his feelings and experience. ACTT always wants to be a necessary and significant person (as a choleric). Such people have a natural talent in music and acting. That is why he or she likes to visit different performances and theatres. Such people like to entertain their colleagues and friends (sanguine). Sometimes, they may have a feeling of free time and they don't know what to do and how to spend this time (melancholic, phlegmatic, choleric).

Usually ACTT is faithful to his family, but may be prone to flirt with two personalities at the same time (sanguine, choleric). Tries to establish the inner circle by creating some strength tests for those people. May dictate his or her own religious life views to others (melancholic, choleric). Waits for the help from others in business (melancholic, choleric). Does not control his own words and promises but likes to be a speaker or teacher. In fact, he understands that it is important to control the words, but he wants others to do that. (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric).

Such person may some inclination for adventures. But later ACTT may become unsure about this position and changes the tactics (sanguine, choleric). Despite the artistry, ACTT may be cautious to other people that do not belong to his or her own inner circle. Strict and judicious, doesn't like to compromise much (melancholic, choleric). But at the same time, ACTT has a constant image of mysterious and interesting person. He can rapidly change the meaning and topic of conversation (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric).

ASLT (Aristocratic Seeing Logical Type)

Makes an impression of a strict and disciplined person. Also he can look like a person who likes order and justice. He manages to visit a lot of places, especially those, where someone is quarreling (melancholic, choleric). They are patriots. This person brings everything into his house and family, what he or she earned.

ASLT likes his country. Such people are loyal to their homeland even if they change the country (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). He may be a straightforward and sometimes even rude person. But usually they become restrained when they meet unpleasant person (melancholic does that). Such person likes to look for some goals and benefits. Therefore, he can change the position at work (sanguine, choleric). Usually he thinks that showing feelings is a good habit, but delegates this duty to others (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric).

ASLT is honest and straightforward person. They usually don't lie. A good habit among sixteen characters of people. And this is not because of their principles (sanguine). May look for love relationships with new women (men) and sometimes forget to do his or her duties. Sometimes can be only superficial as companion. This is because he does not get deeply to the conversation. In such situations they don't talk much (phlegmatic, sanguine). When ASLT press on others, they prefer to talk about the rules and principles. Sometimes they use even spiritual or religious rules. May ask for moral compensation after a conflict (melancholic, choleric).

DTCT (Democratic Thinking Casuistic Type)

A good fantasist among sixteen characters of people. They are often upset, when their life ideas, thoughts and views are not real (melancholic, choleric). And such views may not become real in most cases. They create a charm and when they see the purpose they show their feelings and experiences to others. Creates any occasion in order to do his own goals and good (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric).

As a person he may be unreliable, because such people may forget about their obligations and life principles. But they don't understand why somebody may dishonor them about it (melancholic, phlegmatic). Not indifferent to other people. Very often others remember DTCT as a good worker (for example, as paramedic) (sanguine). But usually DTCT is a good worker for others. When his or her family needs a help, such type prefers to avoid these duties (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric).

May be involved in conflicts and when others are quarreling (melancholic, choleric). Silent and passive patriot (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). For self-defence uses his sympathy and calm emotions in order to end the conflict with aggressive people. They don't have a feeling of guilt or responsibility towards people while they use self-defence. (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric).

ALST (Aristocratic Logical Seeing Type)

Such people try to reach their goals in business and relationships in a short period of time. They respect others behaviour, and not relate it to their position. Usually ALST likes to educate their inner circle in terms of some rules and moral. They realize, that their spirituality can be even opposite to conventional wisdom. Such people usually stick to one religion and value it (sanguine).

ALST can pay attention only to one object or one thing, depending on situation (melancholic, phlegmatic). As a personality may be honest. Their face may blush when they need to lie. This is also a good habit among different sixteen characters of people. Usually, their information has only a diplomatic character (melancholic). In new team ALST shows his or her emotions and feelings, that is why the others will remember them as an interesting and open-minded personality (sanguine). Such people have a need in changing their permanent residence. Also they want to buy only new things. But all these duties they try to blame on others (choleric). They like to talk about new things or technologies (sanguine).

ALST wants to be interesting person to everyone with their appearance and behaviour. They try to be a very accurate and modern person. Such people don't try to choose only one side, they analyze and try to find more benefits for themselves (sanguine). Usually they don't think that others deserve some help. But despite this, they may offer it for a good reputation. After that they may remind others about his or her debt (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). In conflict situations they try to get back into the details of conversation. That means, that they go deeply into the details that created a conflict. That is why it may not end peacefully (choleric).

DCTT (Democratic Casuistic Thinking Type)

They easily maintain relationships. DCTT can compromise with others. Even if the relationships are not so good, they will remain a good companion and the person to talk with. They like to introduce people not ony for love purposes, they try to find some charm inside of each person (phlegmatic, sanguine).

DCTT has changeable position and mood (melancholic, choleric). In clothes tries to find something refined that may like to others (phlegmatic). Sometimes they can be naive and believe to everything that others say (sanguine, choleric). Usually they don't like to protest and to be in conflict (phlegmatic, sanguine). Good as a consultant and attentive to people. Tries to guide others on the right way (phlegmatic, sanguine). Faithful to his or her family, friends and close people, but tries to hide this position (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric).

DCTT usually don't think badly about others, but can discuss it behind the back (phlegmatic, sanguine). Very calm and judicious person, but don't like when someone strange shows him his feelings. Such people usually don't think that love is something emotional and high (melancholic, phlegmatic). DCTT can easily hide defects that nobody will see it. It may look, that such people have no problems in their life (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine).

DSLT (Democratic Seeing Logical Type)

Pays attention to one object or thing and tries to find its weaknesses and qualities in order to know more (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine). Isn't it a strange habit among all sixteen characters of people? DSLT realizes the spirituality and chooses in which circle of people it is comfort to do that. Such people can change their beliefs, friends and sometimes even not to promote their spirituality or religion. Tries to find inconsistency, truth and likes to hear the opinions of others about any reason (sanguine).

Such people usually don't know how to behave correctly with those people who need support and feelings. This is because they don't know how to express those feelings (melancholic, choleric). They can offer their ideas to others and sometimes can even lie or hide something. They like to demonstrate their strong qualities and prestige (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). DSLT considers is that the good appearance of other people is one of the most valuable and important attributes in their life. But being sticked to one object, they may forget about this rule (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric).

Such people like something new and unusual, therefore they will accept any offer (sanguine). Usually DSLT don't judge the others, because they know that all people can make mistakes and have a lot of defects. That is why DSLT prefers not to resolve such problems (phlegmatic, sanguine). In any conflict tries to find a constructive decision, usually in peaceful manner (sanguine). Sometimes they want to cause remorse in others and have a competitive spirit. And sometimes can be envious (melancholic).

ATCT (Aristocratic Thinking Casuistic Type)

Has a constant need for travel, whe can find something new and interesting. Such people often like to change clothes, job, friends, place of residence (sanguine, choleric). Wants people to love him or her (sanguine). Usually ATCT doesn't divide people on categories, but they usually have some people they don't respect and don't want to help them. Has an image of merchant, that likes to get more than give (melancholic, phlegmatic).

Tries to find fashionable clothes (sanguine). Counts only on himself or herself. But if such person sees that someone needs help or service, usually starts to panic. But if he or she managed to help the others, they will never forget about the debts (melancholic). May be conflict person. But anyway, tries to be in image of business person or responsible worker (choleric). Likes the religious rules and etiquette, but in reality may not stick to that all the time (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric).

ATCT consider themselves as the responsible workers. But they are not the most responsible personalities among all sixteen characters of people. They cannot be attentive to every detail and can't stick their attention to one object. This fact may cause some bad mood or small depression inside of them (melancholic, choleric). Usually they try to find some obvious work or methods to get benefits, because they cannot lie and get out fast of situation. This is due to the lack of words and logic. They try to avoid such situations (phlegmatic, sanguine). In conflicts such people can create an image of their guilt and show some emotions. They like to save all relationships, because they will manage to break up the relations at any time (sanguine).

ALTT (Aristocratic Logical Thinking Type)

A person that knows the life. They choose any activity and business and studying it. Such people like to create proverbs, jokes and interesting pictures (phlegmatic, sanguine) a little bit more than other sixteen characters of people. They are not very good as a subordinate employee, because they have introverted and moody character or depression.

Due to their constant changeable mood, they may betray their partners in love, family or business (melancholic, choleric). Such people may notice their own egoism, but usually they don't like such feeling (melancholic, phlegmatic). ALTT has a good understanding of other people's character and usually knows how to talk with them (sanguine). Such people consider pliability and sincerity as the good character traits. But they cannot use these traits by themselves and try to delegate this to others (melancholic, phlegmatic).

Hidden leader that needs a sense of significance (melancholic, choleric). Sometimes they forget to take some necessary clothes and things for a trip, but they don't worry about it. Usually ALTT doesn't have a list of plans to do, all their plans are spontaneous. This may create a surprise to their relatives (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). In conflict situations they try to stop the conflict by showing some care to everyone, no matter if it is positive or negative type of care (phlegmatic, sanguine).

DCST (Democratic Casuistic Seeing Type)

A person that wants to be better than others. I mean, literally, they want to be the best among all sixteen characters of people. Such people dream about lots of archievements and usually they try hard in order to get it. DCST do not like to admit their own failures (sanguine, choleric). Typical Don Juan. They trust only those people who are close to them, especially proven and authoritative people. DCST has very good sense of duty.

They control and protect their inner circle (phlegmatic). When someone asks them for help, such people may become nervous. Sometimes they have a fear and unsure position about the future of their relatives and close people (melancholic, choleric). Such people can easily learn foreign languages or something new, regarding their tasks at the job. They like to have business trips. They are hospitable with uninvited guests too (sanguine). DCST likes to be in image of serious, discreet and enterprising person (melancholic).

Despite the fact, that such people can easily learn new working tasks or languages, they may get tired of that and leave these tasks for later. They also can hesitate about what kind of activity or jobs they want to do. This is because such people like to do a lot of different things at the same time. But some of them can be dissapointed in their actions later (choleric, melancholic).

Although he notices valuable advice, he rarely use it. Observes those who like to reason, who is bad or good. He has tough and rude sense of humor and jokes that not everyone can understand. He may find himself in situations where he participates in the role of a third side or superfluous, and then regrets about it (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric).

In conflicts they prefer to argue with others and insist on their point of view. Sometimes even down to assault and beatings (choleric).

ASCT (Aristocratic Seeing Casuistic Type)

Very good companion. Romantic. Isn't it nice for all sixteen characters of people? Willingly makes contact, but prefer to be in a role of observer. A lover of various events and exhibitions (sanguine). As a householder or housewife, always surprises everyone with her or his dishes and beautiful cooking recipes (phlegmatic). Such people usually are not well-organized, but they like to keep clean at home. But sometimes they feel lack of energy and time to keep everything around clean.

Due to bad self-organization, such people may be late for important meetings or interviews. And therefore, they are usually worried about it (sanguine). ASCT likes to care about others or give some advice. They can treat others with something tasty. Sometimes such people may impose their qualities to others in order to keep the relations strong (sanguine). But at the same time, ASCT may be very vulnerable and vindictive person. This happens even if he or she realizes that there is no need to fix on little things (melancholic, choleric).

True hedonist. They like to talk with others and even do not pay attention to someone elses mood (phlegmatic, sanguine). Very delicate and polite with people and have an image of well-mannered person (phlegmatic, sanguine). Overall, ASCT is an impressive person that has some artistical talents. In conflicts they know how to defend themselves using right beliefs and evidences (sanguine).

DTLT (Democratic Thinking Logical Type)

This person likes to set the goals high and looks for something new and sublime. They need some care and help, because they are the people of changeable mood. Usually, wants to be interesting in the eyes of others. Wants to be a leader and be in the spotlight (sanguine, choleric). But in general, they are not so good in leading others, among the other sixteen characters of people. Such people can do several tasks simultaneously, combine work and hobbies. Photographer, sculptor, musician, surgeon etc. These people succeed in everything, because they always have some unique ideas (sanguine).

But due to constant changeable mood, they may betray his or her partners at home or at work (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). Usually behaves relaxed with others and do not use the rules of behavious. (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). Courageous in communication with others in order to gain their trust (sanguine). If DTLT has a bad mood, he can be rude and even fight with someone. Provokes people to fight (choleric). DTLT thinks that each person should want to be the best in their jobs or hobbies, but sometimes they are lazy to stick to this rule (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric).

Such people like to watch the others and analyze the behaviour of others. DTLT don’t respect much those people who have very intelligent image. This is because they think that these people are just playing roles (melancholic, choleric). Sometimes can be frivolous and don’t have a sense of debt. Usually such people consider that they owe nothing to anyone (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). In conflict situations they may consider two options. First option is to get away from the conflict. The second option is to fight with the person he or she does’t like. If the fight happens, they may ask their friends to help them too (sanguine, choleric).

DLTT (Democratic Logical Thinking Type)

They succeed mostly in everything and try not to drag out time. This is a good habit among sixteen characters of people. These people resolve all the problems easily and that is why they usually don’t have much problems. DLTT is usually don’t stay in one place, because they are busy (sanguine). Such people have a good sense of care that is usually directed to their family. Some of them can help the others too, but it depends on situation (phlegmatic). They also don’t mind to have some experiments in family or business. The other sixteen characters of people will not understand such experiments and their purpose.

They don’t know how to make a deal without a notary or witnesses. That is why they may become depressed about it (melancholic, sanguine, choleric). Very strong opponent at work and business, who tries to obey the rules and be the best at their position. They try to show only their best qualities of character (sanguine). DLTT understands that active propaganda and useful acquaintances is a key to personal growth. But they are lazy to do that all the time (phlegmatic, sanguine).

Such people don’t understand others much, that is why they rely only on personal comfort when they talk with others (melancholic, phlegmatic, choleric). They like different opinions about etiquette and rules of behaviour (sanguine). They are very serious and responsible to everything what surrounds them. DLTT think that jokes and criticism is the same thing, that is why they may be aggressive about it (melancholic, choleric). So, they specific humor among all sixteen characters of people. In conflict situations they behave differently. They may crash the plates on a kitchen or fight with the opponent. Some of them may simply go away in tears (choleric). DLTT may laugh and in one second change their mood rapidly to serious (sanguine).

ACST (Aristocratic Casuistic Seeing Type)

These people are good at human psychology. This is their innate talent and it is the highest among all sixteen characters of people. They usually check the reactions of other people and may foresee some of their steps. They know how to win a maximum in the situation and get a maximum profit or benefits from the situation (sanguine). Knows how to adapt to others, but is faithful only to his or her family. Such people usually don’t forget to give presents and greet on holidays (phlegmatic).

They often in tense, because their tact leads to nervous mood and dissapointment (melancholic, choleric). At work they usually want to know everything about their colleagues and their private life in details (sanguine). In theory, ACST have a sense of debt and may be faithful (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). Such people may be very unsure when you give them a choice. For example, the choice of love partners or jobs. ACST may want everything at the same time and that is why they will hesitate and seek for advice (choleric).

Secretive person. Usually they don’t show competitive spirit. Prefers not to talk about the success and good qualities of others. Instead, they pretend not to hear about it (melancholic, phlegmatic). In conflict situations tries not to provoke the conflict in order to keep his or her own peace of mind (phlegmatic, sanguine). So, they are true philosophers and strong phychological analysts among all sixteen characters of people.

DSCT (Democratic Seeing Casuistic Type)

Likes to bother the others. Tends to be an interesting person, but usually such people are fixated on fulfilling their own needs (sanguine). They know the weaknesses of others and sometimes may use this knowledge. They may courageously go for contact with other people if they need it (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). There are the moments when such people prefer to think only about themselves (sanguine, choleric).

They try to create business from everything around. This is a good habit for their family, among all sixteen characters of people. They can be attentive even to unnecessary details, therefore they don't understand why other people laugh. Usually DSCT doesn't hide his or her attitude or intensions to others (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). In a team of colleagues tries not to hide his or her emotions and mood. Sometimes they can be rude, but they ask the others for patience and restraint (melancholic, choleric). Usually they show only their positive mood, because such people believe that they may share their mood with the others (sanguine). Uninvited guest.

Likes to make gifts out of nothing or using the things he or she doesn't need. May cancel an important meeting without informing in advance, because of their "bad memory" or busyness (melancholic, phlegmatic, sanguine, choleric). Sometimes, he or she behaves like a teenager who knows absolutely no risk and trouble (sanguine, choleric). Demanding person (melancholic, choleric). They try to become famous and rich without working hard (choleric). In conflict situations does not see his or her fault. All the acts they commited they consider as right actions. Never admits defeat and can be very strong opponent (melancholic, choleric).

ATLT (Aristocratic Thinking Logical Type)

Such people may believe in wraiths. This is the purpose of their intuition, which is high among the others sixteen characters of people. They can protect their family and nation from lies, illnesses, lechery and starvation. Shows indifference to people and patience. They like to hint, tell, convince. Such people like to analyze the reasons of some phenomena, if it touches the questions of life and health (sanguine). May succeed in many activities if he or she needs it (sanguine).

May forget to take the necessary things (choleric). Takes care of loved ones, can find the most valuable things exclusively for them (phlegmatic). Feels internal discomfort if they have to compete with someone. May be compliant person (phlegmatic). Shows trust and sincerity to strangers, especially to those who actively demonstrate their personality (phlegmatic, sanguine). ATLT understands something about the relations of people, but for them it is a difficult question. Therefore they try to delegate it to others. It's hard for them to find a mutual language with any person, but they think that it is important (sanguine).

Sometimes such people may be seductive in their manners (phlegmatic, sanguine). They can live in places where is no comfort or prestige and usually they don't worry about it. They do not need the fame. At home such person is usually passive and doesn't like to clean the house (phlegmatic). In conflict situations, such people may show their emotions and can be very active. In some cases they can light up even more spark of emotions and make a conflict to continue (choleric).

Innate types that are atypical have almost the same description as typical, but their stable life values and behaviour will be a bit different.

©2018-2025 Worldtypology.com